

Anton Korinek

CONDENSED BIO

Anton is a Professor at the University of Virginia's Department of Economics and Darden School of Business, a Nonresident Fellow at the Brookings Institution, a Research Associate at NBER, a Research Fellow at CEPR, and the Economics of AI Lead at the Centre for the Governance of AI. He holds a PhD from Columbia University (2007) and has worked in IT and finance. His research focuses on transformative AI's impact on economic growth, labor markets, and inequality, while his past work addressed financial crises and capital flow regulation in emerging economies.